

Medical Writer

Washington, DC

Consulting company serving the orthopedic medical devices industry seeks two part-time (contract) medical writers.

Responsibilities:

- Research, write, review and edit clinical documents: scientific articles for peer-reviewed medical journals, investigator brochures, summaries, scientific abstracts, posters and presentations.
- Assist with the generation of regulatory submission documents.
- Participate in the definition of publication strategies.

Qualifications:

- Minimum of BA/BS in a scientific field; MS or PhD preferred
- Clinical experience. Previous experience in orthopedic industry a plus
- Extensive interpretation and review of scientific/medical information
- Able to define and follow through on projects without close supervision
- Ability to write about technical content in a clear and understandable manner
- Ability to work as part of a team in a dynamic, fast-paced, deadline-driven environment
- Excellent written, verbal communication, and presentation skills
- Knowledge of basic office software programs (Word, Excel, PowerPoint)
- Good organization skills, detail-oriented

Please send applications to lmouries@mcra.com or fax 202-552-5798.